Our founder, Sarah Mitchell, was a third-generation organic farmer who saw the disconnect between farms and consumers. After years of selling at farmers markets, Sarah realized that many people wanted fresh, organic produce but couldn't always make it to the markest. That's when the idea for FreshMart was born - bringing the farmer's market directly to your doorstep. Today, we work with over 50 local farms across the region, supporting sustainable agriculture while providing our customers with the freshest produce possible. Every vegetable and fruit we deliver is picked at peak ripness and delivered within 24 hours.

The screenshot displays a web application interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a logo on the left and a series of links: Home, Vegetables, Fruits, Seasonal, Exotic, About, Contact, Blog, and Sign up. Below the navigation bar, the main content area features a light green rounded rectangle titled "Create Your Account". Inside this rectangle, there are five input fields stacked vertically: "Full Name", "Email Address", "Phone Number", "Password", and "Confirm Password". At the bottom of the form is a green button labeled "Sign Up".

Conclusion:

While working on these 10 webpages, I learned how CSS helps in creating a consistent and attractive design across all pages. I understand the importance of separating content from style, which makes the code cleaner and easier to manage. I also gained experience in using CSS properties to improve layout, colors, and overall user experience. This practice enhanced my skills in designing professional and responsive webpages.
